

"SHORT AND UGLY" WOLF'S ANSWER TO BIGELOW CHARGES

Says Author Lies When He Says Hebrews Lack Patriotism.

That Poulton Bigelow "is a liar of the first cloth" if he says the Hebrews are unpatriotic, was reiterated today by Simon Wolf.

"An article said to have been written by Mr. Bigelow, attacking the patriotism of Hebrews was read to me over the telephone at midnight last night," said Mr. Wolf today. "I made a statement that if the article in question came from Mr. Bigelow it branded him as a liar. I am withholding further statement until I know definitely whether Mr. Bigelow is responsible for such accusations against the race."

The attack on the Hebrews attributed to Mr. Bigelow says in part: "A horde of Hebrew patriots already tincture our army and navy and are a harmful element in our diplomatic and consular service. Their presence on the bench and in the halls of Congress deserves to be noted with care, unless we are looking forward to an outburst compared to which the Dreyfus days will be very tame, indeed."

That the Hebrew is able to "change his patriotism between two railway stations," and only found this country "after" the trusts and protective tariff prepared an easy road for pawnbrokers and middlemen, are other charges contained in the article.

Mr. Wolf, who served as consul general to Egypt more than twenty years ago, cites the record of the Hebrews in the civil war as refutation of the allegations in the article.

"If the statements were really made by Mr. Bigelow, as reported," said Mr. Wolf today, "they are contemptible."

New Animals and Birds Shown at Zoo

A number of additions to the collection of animals at the Zoological Gardens have been made during the past few days.

Among some of the recent arrivals are a pair of seal elephants, the survivors of an almost extinct race. They were captured off the coast of Southern California. For a number of years the seal elephants were plentiful along the Mexican coast, but it was not long until the Mexicans discovered value in their oil, and the wholesale slaughter for the past number of years has almost exterminated them. They are about six feet long, and only one year old. When full grown they are usually ten feet long. They resemble the common seal.

Six pairs of the Whistling Pigeons, a rare species of small bird, resembling the pigeon family, found only on the Siam peninsula, attract much attention.

A cargo of tapers, small mammals, and a number of birds will reach the Zoo this week from the Argentine republic. The National Zoo at Buenos Ayres, and the Washington Zoo have perfected a plan whereby animals that are common in North America will be sent there in exchange for animals that inhabit lower South America.

Basis of Prosperity Shown in Munsey's

"The average American who talks in superlative terms of his country seldom stops to realize that the bulk of all its business is agriculture," writes Isaac P. Marcusson in "Why the American Farmer is Rich," in the Munsey for November. "Without this there would be no tallest buildings, no 'queen cities,' no 'fastest trains in the world.' Eliminate the crops, and our railroad income would dwindle, our commerce would be paralyzed, and one-third of our entire population would be idle. In short, our real progress is rooted in the ground."

"Such a revelation is made this year in the census report showing the extraordinary increase in the value of the American farm. Eleven years ago the agricultural land of the country was valued at $13,000,000,000, in round numbers. Last year it was appraised at $28,000,000,000—an increase of 115 per cent. Including the buildings and agricultural equipment, the total value of our farms aggregated the immense sum of $38,000,000,000, or nine times the money in all our savings banks."

Members of Boat Club Enjoy Oyster Roast

A big fleet of motor boats weighed anchor yesterday morning at the moorings of the Eastern Power Boat Club. The fleet sailed down the river to River View, where the club members dispersed themselves during the afternoon at the second annual oyster roast of the organization.

The "roast" committee was headed by William F. Tucker, assisted by J. E. Battenberg, J. M. Stees, A. R. Esther, J. Newman, and J. Humpherson. Mrs. William McGee, Mrs. J. E. Battenberg, Miss Margaret C. Hyatt, Mrs. F. Bailey, Mrs. F. Newman, Mrs. Bernard, Mrs. Humpherson, and Mrs. Stees were members of the ladies' committee.

MOVING PICTURES TO END CAMPAIGN

Films of Alleged Gambling Houses and "Speakeasies" to Be Shown by Moncure in Fight for Alexandria's Office of Commonwealth Attorney.

WASHINGTON TIMES BUREAU, ALEXANDRIA, VA., OCT. 30.

Moving pictures and illustrated lantern slides as an adjunct to a political campaign is a distinct novelty injected into the political fight in Alexandria county by R. C. L. Moncure, who is a candidate for the office of attorney for the Commonwealth.

These pictures are reproductions of actual photographs, taken by agents of Mr. Moncure, of alleged gambling houses and "speakeasies" said to be in operation in the vicinity of Roslyn and Jackson City. Mr. Moncure asserts that the portrayal of such conditions will prove a much stronger argument for his candidacy than any speech.

On November 6, the day before election, a screen will be erected in front of the county courthouse, on which the pictures will be thrown in the evening, as the last word of what has been one of the most bitterly contested campaigns ever held in Alexandria county.

The Washington district voters will be addressed by Mr. Moncure at a meeting to be held at the Carnegie school house. Candidates from both sides will be present and will make short addresses.

Mr. Moncure is opposing Crandall Mackey, the present incumbent, who is a candidate for re-election, and James E. Clements.

The pastorate at the Second Presbyterian Church, which a week ago was tendered to Rev. John L. Allison, D.D., formerly pastor of the Gunton Temple Memorial Church, of Washington, has been accepted by him. The pulpit in this church, vacant since last January, has been occupied in the meantime by Dr. Allison, and his acceptance of the appointment was received with satisfaction by the church members. The following were elected members of the board of deacons: D. H. Stansbury, P. J. Dempsey, W. Howell, D. Lowe, J. H. Bittzer, and Clifton T. Howard.

The ban has been placed on the operation of all "catch-penny" gambling devices in this city in an order issued to the police by Mayor F. J. Parr. Many merchants operate games of chance with prizes of cigars and other merchandise.

Store Cut in Two, But Will Keep Doing Business

F. B. Downes, owner of a grocery store in Takoma Park, is a man of many resources. In connection with the construction of the Cedar street subway, the District next week will cut the establishment occupied by Mr. Downes in two. No thought of a temporary retirement from business, however, occupies his mind. Instead, he has planned to construct a front to one side of the store, and will continue to sell goods at the old stand, until a new store which he is building, is completed. The property is owned by Angus Lamond and was acquired by condemnation proceedings.

The subway will extend under the tracks of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company at Cedar street, and will result in an improvement long urged and earnestly desired by the residents of Takoma Park. The work will be completed in about four months. The total cost of the subway will be approximately $50,000, one-half of which will be defrayed by the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company.

Plan to Collect Bill From Traction Company

On recommendation of D. J. Donovan, acting auditor, the commissioners called on Corporation Counsel Thomas today for advice as to the action to be taken in the collection of a certificate of indebtedness of $3,500.15 against the East Washington Heights Traction Railroad Company.

Under the law one-half of the annual cost of the maintenance and repairs of bridges occupied by the tracks of a street railway company is charged against the company. The occupancy of the Pennsylvania avenue bridge for the year ended June 30, 1909.

Demand for a settlement was made by the Commissioners October 18, but according to Acting Auditor Donovan, the company has not responded.

Canada Observes Thanksgiving Day

TORONTO, Oct. 30.—The people of Canada today observed the annual day of thanksgiving. Business halted throughout the Dominion, and a holiday aspect was generally in evidence. A leading feature of the day in this section was the extensive military maneuvers in the Dundas valley.

THE GREATER PALAIS ROYAL

G Street Washington, D. C. 11th Street

The "Opening" of the Greater Palais Royal is in a measure the climax of a lifetime—the realization of a hope to some day create a model store. Today's tribute of hosts of friends, many from the great manufacturing centers, many more of at home, is heartfully appreciated. Still lingering—the remark of a life-long patron: "Thirty-four years ago I bought my first pair of Kid Gloves at the opening of the little Palais Royal on the Avenue, and hope for you another thirty-four years of continued success." With thanks again—to friends, patrons, and my faithful army of attaches, I am,

Very gratefully,
A. Lisner
